Team Engagement Assessment

Teams that agree upon, write down and then Engage one another based on their Team Values and Beliefs are clearly defining their Organizational Culture. Place a check mark next to all that presently apply to your team in today's world of work.

Happy At Work. Show your team members how important they are. Value Happy At Work. Break down barriers and silos while proactively building Happy into your workplace culture.

- We elevate workplace wellness levels and a commitment to a healthy Work/Happy & Engaged Team balance.
- We de-stress a hectic work environment while keeping productivity levels up.
- We regenerate and rebuild motivation and energy to complete the next big task.

Work In Collaboration. The goal is to not just get everyone happy to be where they are but also pulling in the same direction. Ultimately, this benefits the team, your services, and your clients.

- We strengthen team chemistry based on shared values.
- We accept the uniqueness of each team member and share in decision making.
- We engage everyone's unique expertise for even more team success.

Respect for Personality Differences. Respect is not just a demonstration that you understand others but a heartfelt "I Care!!" attitude.

- We give attention to what other people have to say.
- We continuously remind our team members how important their expertise truly is.
- We listen.

Powerful Play Experiences

Creating Engaged Teams

When Your Team Is Consistently Committed To Team Values And Beliefs That Clearly Defines Your Organizational Culture, In No Time You'll Notice These Positive Changes.

- People's ENERGY passionately shows up each and every day. This motivates collaboration and commitment.
- People's RESPECT in the workplace supports the exchange of open and honest communication.
- People's SKILLS & EXPERIENCES result in the courage to embrace ongoing workplace changes.
- People's WORK SATISFACTION is abundant while plenty of Happy At Work is very much apparent.
- CONNECTIONS with one another are obviously authentic, transparent and inspire trust.
